1. The Minnesota Department of Transportation (MnDOT) and the Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) make no representation or guaranty, expressed or implied, with respect to the accuracy, feasibility, financial obligations, or acceptability by any party of the information presented in the Draft I-90 Trail Accommodation Exhibits (“the exhibits”).
2. The exhibits reflect the current range of alternatives being considered as part of the Trail Accommodation Feasibility Study (“the study”) as of 9/26/11.
3. The exhibits do not imply or guaranty that any option under consideration will ultimately be adopted or constructed by either MnDOT or WisDOT as part of any current or future construction project.
4. The exhibits do not imply or guaranty that they would be acceptable or lead to a favorable NEPA/MEPA/WEPA decision or permitting by any State or Federal Agency that has jurisdiction, approval authority, or an interest in any proposed trail option.
5. Cost information provided is for the cost of construction and is for informational purposes only. Cost information has been developed based on limited information and at a conceptual level only, and contains a significant contingency based on the many unknowns at this level of study. Cost information is in terms of today’s dollars (2011) and does not include costs for: i.) preliminary and detailed engineering; ii.) acquisition of any necessary right-of-way; iii.) environmental mitigation and permitting and iv.) project delay costs or inflationary costs, if any.

6. Cost information developed is for the total (ultimate) trail system options under study, and does not consider phased construction over time. Cost information does not assign any jurisdictional or local agency construction cost responsibility with respect to cost sharing of the trail facilities under study.
7. Cost information does not include future maintenance costs. It should be assumed that any option presented will require routine maintenance. The exhibits do not identify or imply who the maintaining authorities would be, if any particular option is constructed.
8. The exhibits may be downloaded from the MnDOT ftp site. Please see statement below.
